

FLORAL DESIGN WORKSHOP

Mississippi State University

A five-day, hands on training program in the basics of floral design, this non-credit course will cover care and handling information along with all of the best basic floral design styles.

Over the years, many people have requested a short-term course in floral design. This class is perfect for you if you are new to floristry or if you are considering a career in the industry. Even industry veterans who have taken the class comment on how much they learned.

We will cover information on conditioning plant material using flower foods and sealants. Design practice includes flowers-to-war, flowers-to-carry, vase designs, sympathy design including standing sprays and casket sprays.

We will have a great time designing flowers for entertaining and events, and learn about the construction of large-scale arrangements suitable for places of worship.

For further information, see www.theuniversityflorist.com

Mississippi State University
Department of Plant and Soil
Sciences

Ph 662-325.2311